One Million MyOrderDesk Print Jobs Announced.
PagePath's online job submission system passes milestone.

Plano, IL March 13, 2006: PagePath Technologies, Inc. today announced its MyOrderDesk online orderflow system has delivered over one million jobs to print shops.

MyOrderDesk delivered its millionth job to CCS Printing in Tacoma, WA on 3/7/06. The job was one of 27 sent to CCS Printing by various customers over the span of a few hours. CCS Printing is headquartered in Bellevue, WA and is ranked as the 9th largest commercial printer in the Seattle metro area. CCS provides print and document management solutions to Microsoft, Honeywell, The Russell Investment company, and others.

Kevin Sullivan, President, CCS Printing commented, "We at CCS Printing have always prided ourselves on being technology forward. In the early 1990's, PagePath's Launch tool made us unique and valuable to our clients. When Pagepath introduced MyOrderDesk, we again saw an opportunity to serve our customers with an advanced, yet easy to use, Web-based job submission system. We're proud that it was one of our customers who used this system to send the millionth job!"

With MyOrderDesk, a print shop can provide its customers with time savings and convenient 24x7 ordering while the print shop enjoys increased production efficiency, reduced turnaround times, and increased profitability. PagePath's MyOrderDesk is a private-branded solution added to a printing organization's existing Website or used in a Website supplied by PagePath.

PagePath Technologies, Inc. was founded in 1983 with its "Silicon Prairie" headquarters in Plano, Illinois. The firm pioneered the use of the Internet to place orders and transmit documents with an easy to use "point & click" system. MyOrderDesk was twice named "Product of the Year" by PrintImage International and "Best of Breed" by Xerox.
